

General Conditions use of the Atrium Den Haag, Atrium City Hall, Spui 70, The Hague, The Netherlands

Agreement, offer and invoice

You must inform Atrium City Hall prior to the agreement about the content of the exhibition and/or event (as of now described as 'activity') as well as the involved person(s) and organization(s). Atrium City Hall will then judge the activity, based on:

- Terms of content, quality, planning and physical possibilities and if the activity fits within the programming of Atrium Den Haag;
- If the activity contributes to the wide, diverse and fascinating programming of the Atrium The Hague.
- The Municipality of The Hague can cancel the activity if it is political, activist or has a strong religious character;
- If the activity fits within the policy of Atrium City Hall and the City Council of The Hague.

Always mention on the application form on www.atriumcityhall.nl the details of the organization and the persons involved, the reason for the activity and images. Based on this information, it is determined whether the activity is suitable in the Atrium of the City Hall in The Hague. Atrium City Hall makes a distinction between public, private, cultural and non-cultural activities.

After consulting with the employees of Atrium City Hall about the activity, you will receive an offer which is the agreement. The organization mentioned on the offer must always be registered at the Chamber of Commerce. After receiving the signed offer within 30 days, or before the date which is mentioned in the offer, the reservation will be booked. Prior to your activity you will receive an invoice for the use of the Atrium of the City Hall of The Hague. This invoice will be set up with the amount(s) mentioned in the signed agreement. Atrium City Hall will decide after your activity has taken place, if an extra invoice is required for any additional costs.

Period of the exhibition

Exhibitions can only be set up in the Atrium for a maximum period of three weeks, including building up and breaking down. For setting up an exhibition, Atrium City Hall will take into account the required space and size of the exhibition. Atrium City Hall will consult your organization in advance about these matters.
